With the Pennsylvania Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers your profession comes first.

The Pennsylvania Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (PACDL) is Pennsylvania's premier criminal defense association specially designed to enhance your law practice. From high-quality, relevant training experiences that develop fundamental trial skills to persuasive advocacy before state policymakers on criminal defense issues, PACDL works to enhance your law practice. A practice that you built on passion and drive. We are excited to personally invite you to share our vision of equal justice under law and apply for membership in PACDL.

PACDL dedicated to educate, advocate and inspire.

Since 1988, PACDL has been a uniquely driven, professional legal association dedicated to creating member value. Established by a group of respected criminal defense attorneys, the association was designed to represent public, private and court-appointed criminal defense attorneys in Pennsylvania and foster collaboration across the broadest spectrum possible.

This commitment to excellence and thought leadership continues today. PACDL informs the criminal defense bar's professional knowledge through educational experiences designed to be positively memorable, responsive and customized to criminal defense practitioners' business needs. In addition, PACDL builds a body of knowledge through member-generated forums that offer timely and strategic insights from distinguished colleagues.

PACDL also invests in zealous, effective advocacy. This includes not only a state legislative strategy, but also a strong voice at the Pennsylvania appellate court level where the Association introduces amicus briefs when opportunities exist to win precedent-setting rulings.

Leading with a revolutionary spirit, it challenges convention, demands change, and always looks to the future. It focuses on your success. Its values-driven commitment to educate, advocate and inspire is where PACDL begins and ends every day. Join us.

Establish your unique voice, enhance your profile, and influence your profession.

Visibility and networking opportunities are integrated into PACDL events and can lead to exposure to new markets, enhanced business relationships, and greater success. Expand your sphere of influence by engaging in PACDL's leadership opportunities where you can share your insights and collaborate with distinguished peers while enhancing your personal brand and your firm's profile. You will not only be able to lead by example, but also enjoy the personal fulfillment of addressing the criminal justice field's most pressing challenges. If you have questions or want to join other lawyers who have taken their career to the next level, contact us.

PACDL offers benefits that can help your defense practice thrive.

- Connections – Tap into a network of over 900 criminal defense practitioners sharing their knowledge and experience with one another.
